

Description: Logging into the new ICONICS Web Licensing Utility.

Internet Browser: Internet Explorer 6.0 and higher.

Introduction

Along with GENESIS32 Version 9.1, ICONICS has released a new version of our Web Licensing Utility. Many improvements have been made over the previous version. These enhancements make authorizing new licenses, adding products to existing licenses, and killing or removing licenses a more user friendly experience.

Logging on to the Web Licensing Utility

Some pages of the ICONICS Web Licensing Utility Site are publicly accessible to the anonymous user and the user can access the content of those pages without logging in. Other pages require the user to provide credentials and log into the Web Site. The login dialog (see Figure 1) will prompt the user when requesting access to the secured pages. The user is required to provide an account email address and password.
